

Open a Web Site in a New Tab - Firefox

You've opened Firefox and are at a Web site. You decide that you want to go to another Web site, yet keep the Web site that you're currently at, opened. Providing you know the URL of the site that you want to go to, the following keyboard shortcut will open the Web site in a separate tab:

1. Enter the URL in the address bar.

2. Rather than hitting Enter, which would open the site in the current tab, hold the Alt key and then press Enter.
3. Using the keyboard shortcut Alt+Enter opens the site in a new tab (see image below), enabling access to both sites by simply clicking on one tab or the other.
